DAVID & CHARLES

www.davidandcharles.com

WELCOME

I'm delighted to be introducing our new titles catalogue which, for the first time as independent David and Charles, we will be bringing to the London Book Fair this year. We are now working in a mixed office and home basis, and we are looking forward to the opportunity to meet many of our customers and partners in London and Frankfurt this year. For those that are not currently able to travel, we are very happy to continue meeting virtually.

Building on the success of our 2021 list, this catalogue features books from some exciting new authors alongside titles that develop previous series. We continue to search for new trends, as shown in the brilliantly fun Crochet Donut Buddies and with our success in Kawaii with Kawaii Crochet Garden. Knitted Wild Animal Friends builds on the great performance of its predecessor, Knitted Animal Friends and Crochet Zodiac Dolls sees us working again with the talented author, Carla Mitrani. Elsewhere on the list, it's a privilege to be working with Patty Lyons to bring you Patty Lyons' Knitting Bag of Tricks, as it is to have worked on Paint with Thread, an absolutely gorgeous, must-have, book for embroiderers.

This catalogue also gives a preview of our Autumn titles and our new range of card decks. Each of these three products builds on a successful book, opening the opportunity to new business in merchandise and gift sales. We have been delighted with the early sales feedback on the card decks and look forward to bringing these to market.

Despite the many supply chain headwinds, I am pleased to report that our in-stock rate of books at GBS and Ingram Two Rivers has consistently remained at 98%+. We continue to work hard in this area, and we appreciate the open lines of communication with all our customers and partners on stock requirements.

Thanks,

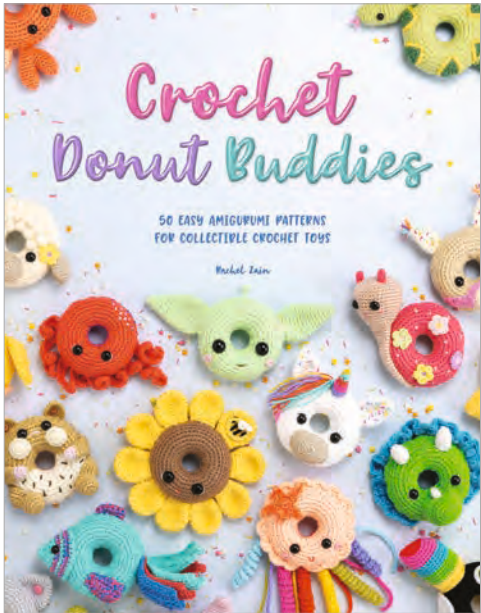

James

ASSEMBLY

Tuck the walls together by sewing along the edges to form the house shape, use the photograph of the house. It's easy to adjust the walls slightly in relation to each other if they vary slightly in size. A little crookedness can also be quite charming.

Finish by tacking the roof in place. It's a good idea to fence the corners of the roof against the top of the house first, then straighten and fence each side on the short walls. This will confirm if the roof fits and is in the right place before you sew along the edges.

We just used a straight needle when sewing the house together, although using a curved needle in difficult areas may have made the task easier.

SHOULDER STRAP

Cut out a strip of fabric measuring 85 x 7cm (33 1/2 x 2 7/8) for the shoulder strap and an 85 x 5cm (32 1/4 x 2in) strip of criss-crossed fabric (see diagram) to hold the strap.

Place the shoulder strap in the middle of the criss-crossed fabric, strip. Fold and sew the edges of the fabric, leaving the shoulder strap in the middle. Fold the strap in half so it is approximately 2.5cm (1in) wide and sew approximately 1cm (3/8in) to along all the sides.

Fence the strap by sewing on a button with a buttonhole thread through both the wall and the strap on each side of the house. You need to sew several stitches to hold the button firmly in place, so it would be a good idea to use pins or buttons to make it easier to pull the needle through all the layers.

Apron dress

You can find the templates in the Patterns section.

GETTING STARTED

The bodice is comprised of three parts and must be lined. The easiest method is to line it using the same fabric that is used for the dress itself. Cut one piece of each of the bodice parts including a good seam allowance; you should have six parts altogether. Remember that you need a right-facing and left-facing side part for both the fabric and lining, see Figure A.

Sew the two side parts together in the middle section, as you have two identical bodices. Place the bodice right side against right side and sew together. Do not sew along the bottom edge, see Figure B. Cut off the excess seam allowance, turn the bodice right side out and iron it.

PALETTE KNIFE AND IMPASTO PAINTING TECHNIQUES IN ACRYLIC

In this fresh new guide to palette knife painting for today's painting enthusiasts, the reader will enjoy step-by-step tutorials for a range of different landscape subjects using a variety of techniques. Discover how to paint in the impasto style using palette knives and other painting methods to get exciting results with thick paint. Author Melissa McKinnon covers four key techniques including blending, creating texture, the direct paint method and impressionist brush painting. Each of these techniques has an exercise for you to practise before getting started on the projects. Melissa is a Canadian artist specialising in textured art. Her work celebrates colour, texture and movement. Melissa has an online community of over 10K.

CREATIVE MAKEUP

Rachel Duffy

TEMPORARY COVER

A STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE TO EXPRESSIVE MAKEUP FROM FANTASY TO FULL ILLUSION

Makeup art as a hobby is incredibly accessible and more popular now than ever, partly due to the success of shows like RuPaul's Drag Race and Glow Up, which have brought it into the mainstream. This book contains 12 breathtaking makeup looks covering the key trends from everyday looks using glitter, floating eyeliner and neon, through to more complex looks for special occasions. There is nothing on the market that reflects the creative makeup tutorials getting thousands of likes on Instagram and TikTok, bridging the gap between traditional makeup books and those focused on SFX, and reflecting the current trend for illusion and fantasy makeup. Author Rachel Duffy is an MUA and lecturer with a following of 52K on Instagram.

HOME-GROWN HARVEST

Eve McLaughlin & Terence McLaughlin

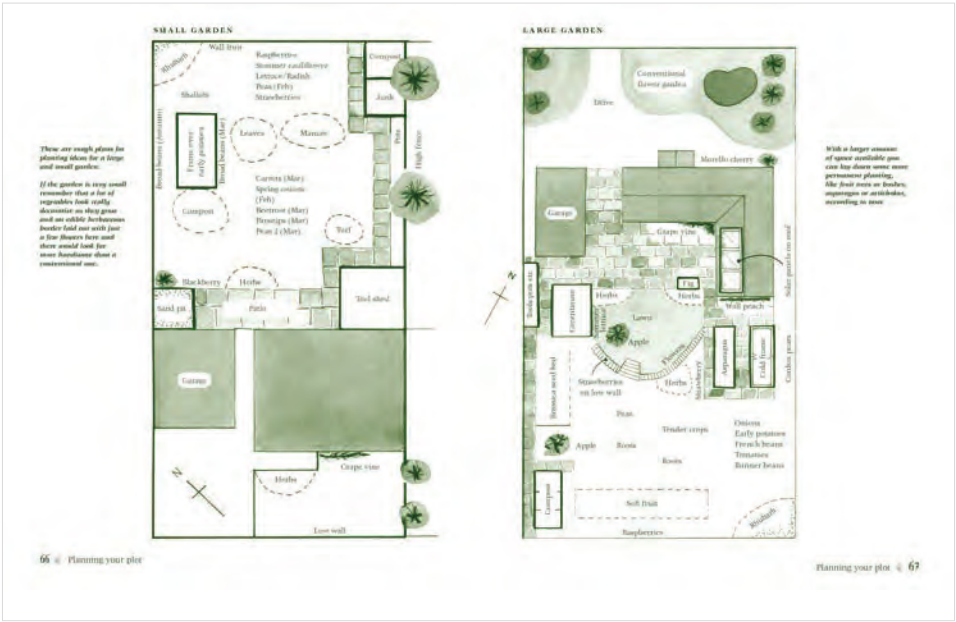

THE GROW-YOUR-OWN GUIDE TO SUSTAINABILITY AND SELF-SUFFICIENCY

Growing your own food is the biggest trend in gardening, with under 35s emerging as the largest generation behind it. People are increasingly conscious about where their food is coming from and how they can help reduce food miles and the use of pesticides. This comprehensive guide includes expert gardening advice to help you grow fresh fruit & vegetables in any sized space, live more sustainably & take steps towards self-sufficiency. It also covers the basics of keeping livestock and how to harness alternative energy sources such as solar and wind power. Eve McLaughlin wrote the original version of Cost-Effective Self-Sufficiency with her husband, Terence McLaughlin. "Grow your own food" has had over 2.9 million hits on Instagram.

THE ANTI-BURNOUT JOURNAL

Bex Spiller

A 12-WEEK MULTI-PLATFORM WELLNESS PLANNER FOR SELF-CARE AND STRESS RELIEF

Banish burnout & reclaim your calm with this innovative 12-week start-anytime journal. Burnout is a state of emotional, physical & mental exhaustion caused by prolonged stress. Searches related to burnout are rising on average 41% annually since 2017, & 77% of employees say they've experienced burnout. It was these worrying facts & her own experience of burnout that led mental-health advocate Bex Spiller to set up The Anti-Burnout Club, which has grown exponentially since its launch in 2021. This journal comes with weekly lessons and challenges to help beat burnout, delivered through the pages of the journal alongside an online dashboard with lifetime access to video lessons in yoga, mindfulness, meditation, nutrition & breathwork, which can be watched time & again.
