- Features stunningly beautiful step-by-step knit designs.
- Patterns include helpful swatches and charts allowing readers to create their own designs based on Lavold's research.

Description

Ever since her ground-breaking book Viking Patterns for Knitting was published, Elsebeth Lavold has been recognised as one of the world's leading experts on cabling. In the book, described as "an indispensable milestone in 20th century knitting literature", she introduces her own innovation, using lifted increases to create interlace patterns instead of just to shape garments, and to bring new life to the ornamental heritage of the Vikings as adornment on modern knitwear.

With more than a decade of added experience and continued research, she is now ready to take the concept a step further. Still firmly based in her Scandinavian roots, she has studied cultures from all over the globe to find similar types of patterns. This has resulted in a fascinating compilation of ornamental expressions, ancient as well as contemporary, and just as in Viking Patterns for Knitting she uses them as a launch pad for her own unique designs.

Elsebeth genuinely enjoys sharing her knowledge. In addition to the abundance of beautiful garments presented in the book with complete instructions, she has analysed a huge number of pattern types and displays them in both swatch and chart form, to allow you to make your own designs based on her research.

About the Author

Elsebeth Lavold is one of Sweden's leading knitwear designers; her exquisite and detailed patterns have thrilled and inspired knitting enthusiasts for over 30 years. Her previous books include Viking Patterns for Knitting, described as "groundbreaking" and "an indispensable milestone in 20th century knitting literature."

Introduction: Courtney uses different tools to bring her subject alive: play is for technique-learning, where Courtney shows her methods and processes; prompts are for experimenting; projects are structured with specific outcomes in mind.

Chapter One: Beginners Begin Here! Tips, Tricks and Activities to Get You Started: You're really inspired to paint, but don't know how to get started. Maybe you're trying out a new hobby or maybe you're just new to the medium. In this chapter, Court promises to educate you on the acrylic painting process and the supplies you'll need to help you over the hurdle of the blank canvas.

This chapter covers basic tips, tricks, and techniques often used by acrylic artists—such as ways to keep your paints wet, blending, mark making, and mini activities to build your confidence in painting. Throughout, the focus is on the idea of play (process) over product, or end result.

Objective: Have fun getting to know your paints and brushes, as well as feeling comfortable and confident with the medium to begin creating.

Chapter Two: Relax, Unwind, and Just Have Fun! ARTY Hard for 15 Minutes: This chapter is designed to help you get into the habit of painting daily and freely, if only for 15 minutes at a time. It encourages you to use different quick techniques and prompts to engage in painting in a pressure-free manner, always focusing on the process rather than the result. Take your paints outside and engage in the medium in new playful ways. Prompts in this chapter encourage the beginner artist to engage their creativity by using both sides of their brain and body with activities like painting with both hands simultaneously.

Objective: To engage with the acrylic painting process in a quick and friendly way, on a daily basis. Ranging from simple exercises to quick projects to be completed in 15 minutes or less. The reader is encouraged to let go of the outcome and enjoy the creative journey of painting. Exploring quick techniques to take their acrylic paintings to a new level.

Chapter Three: Colour Me Happy: Colour Theory and Therapy: This chapter explores colour and the effect it has on you. Courtney will inspire the reader to use color in new and exciting ways, challenging readers to use color combinations that he or she may not naturally gravitate toward, as well as demonstrating how you can use color to add depth to your paintings.

Objective: To explore the depths and meaning that color can have on a composition, and how to combine color in new and interesting ways to create a painting that pops!

Chapter Four: Texture: For When Life Gets Rough: This chapter demonstrates different ways to add dimension to your painting by creating texture with various techniques. Some artists use texture as a major influence in their work as a way to draw the viewer to look closer. Play with different types of molding paste, varnishes, and experiment with painting without a brush to create different types of texture.

Objective: To educate the reader on various methods for creating texture and depth in their painting.

Chapter Five: The World is Your Canvas: Painting Beyond the Canvas: Whether you're on a tight budget and can't swing the cost of canvas, or you're just feeling creative and want to try something new, this chapter will show you how you can paint on nearly anything that will sit still long enough.

Objective: Thinking outside of the box and painting on non-traditional surfaces.

About the Author

Victoria Findlay Wolfe, painter, photographer, and quilter, was raised on a farm in rural Minnesota. She learned to sew and quilt when she was four years old. Her grandmother and mother were quilters, and her father, a farmer, also had an upholstery business. Victoria graduated from the College of Visual Arts with a bachelor's degree in Fine Arts in St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1993. A year later, she arrived in New York City.

After some success as a painter, she discovered quilting blogs, returned to quilting, and started receiving commissions. About the Author

Suzanne was taught how to knit as a young girl but, despite her mother's efforts, did not enjoy it. She rediscovered the craft when her children were involved in many activities and learned that knitting was a great way to spend time while sitting at soccer fields and ice arenas. Knitting quickly became her passion. In 2012, Suzanne began teaching a variety of knitting classes for the Community Education program in Inver Grove Heights, Minnesota. She also started entering her original designs in the Dakota County and Minnesota State fairs. She has won many ribbons for her entries, including several grand champion awards. When she is not knitting, Suzanne enjoys spending time with her family and works as a special education paraprofessional at a local elementary school helping students with special needs.

About the Author

Katherine Kennedy became enamoured with Swedish weave many years ago but couldn't find patterns for this new found needlework. Making her own designs was just the natural thing to do. Within just a short time, she was selling her items at shows and in local Scandinavian shops and started teaching. She now has a full line of chartpacks and kits that are distributed world wide. Katherine's inspiration for designs comes mostly from her head, but she really has been inspired by some of the old pattern books from the 30's & 40's that she was able to find. She lives in Minnesota with her husband Mark, and they have 6 children and 3 grandchildren.
